Grimmelman Wins His Suit Against the Union Pacific Railway Company.

VERDICT WHICH THE JURY BROUGHT IN

He is Awarded $8,000 for the Death of His Son-The Railroad Company Will Appeal the Case to the Supreme tourt.

Judge Smith opened the verdict in the district court yesterday morning in the case of Grimmelman against the Union Pacific Railway company and found it to be in favor of the plaintiff in the sum of $8,000. -,

This is a suit in which there is a good deal of public interest felt. William Grimmelman was employed at the Union Pacific transfer in this city until about two years ago, when, one night while at work, he fell into a vat of boiling water. Before he could be rescued be received injuries from which he suffered terribly for several days and finally died. The suit was commenced by his father, and was tried at the last term of court. The trial resulted in a disagreement, it being learned afterwards that one of the jurers refused to take any part in the deliberations with his follow jurymen in the jury room, but sat apart, evidently having made up his mind in advance. The jurors signed a request of Judge Macy that he would not require them to sit on any more juries with their refractory brother, but this request was disregarded. As the verdict in this instance only lacks $2,000 of the full amount asked for by the plaintiff it is regarded as an overwheiming victory against the railway company. The attorneys for the defense filed a motion for a new trial, and will fight the case out in the supreme court.

AFTER ALDERMAN NICHOLSON.

Sixth Warders Organizing a Nickel Fore Association.

If Alderman C. R. Nicholson had happened around about the time the meeting of Sixth warders was being held in the building at the corner of Twenty-third street and Broadway last evening he would have arrived at the conclusion that some one had conceived the notion that as a member of the city council he was not a blooming success. The meeting was called by twenty-nine of the voters of the ward, irrespective of politics, and those present were about equally divided between the two leading parties.

A. C. Keller was appointed chairman and L. Douglas, secretary. The object of the meeting was stated by Chairman Keller to be the devising of ways and means for pre-serving the rights of the citizens of Council serving the rights of the citizens of Council Bluffs, and especially of the Sixth ward, against corporations, and especially against the motor company. The meeting was rather an informal one, the time being occupied principally with the discussion of the present status of the 5-cent fare project and the relations to it sustained by the alderman who represents as one of who represents, or misrepresents, as one of the democratic brethren put it, the Sixth ward in the city council. The main topic of conversation was the puestion of extending the Interstate Bridge ompany's charter for another two years This, so those in charge of the meeting con-ceived, had an important bearing upon the 5-cent fare scheme on the theory that there was such an understanding between the two motor companies that if the Interstate company's charter is extended for another two years the prospects for a competing line will lie dormant for that length of time, and with them the possibility of a 5-cent fare.

"Alderman Nicholson has said that Tom Evans is the only man in the western part of the city that wants a 5-cent fare," said one of the speakers. "What we want to do is to convince him that he is mistaken, and that we all want to see a 5-cent fare as badly as Evans or any other man." A committee was finally appointed to confer with Alderman Nicholson between now and next Monday evening and inform him that it is the wish of his constituents that he cast his vote against the extension of the Interstate charter for two years and to be present at the meeting of the council on Monday evening to see whether or not he acts in accordance with their wishes. This committee was made a nonpartisan one and was composed as follows: C. B. Washington, A. C. Hard-ing, M. W. Dempsey, W. C. Boyer, L. Douglas, L. M. Shubert and A. C. SURPRISED THE GIRLS.

Two Council Bluffs Damsels Run Up Against

no Unexpected Sung. The danger that lurks in the seductive orrespondence bureau, newspaper personal column and the like was brought forcibly to the knowledge of a couple of girls belonging to two of the best families of Council Bluffs a few days ago, and, as a consequence, there are two girls whose patronage will probably not be given to such enterprises in the future. Several weeks ago an advertisement appeared in a certain. Omaha paper calling for two young ladles to correspond with a like number of college boys living in Omaha and upon whose hands time hung heavily. The two young ladies were looking for a little excitement of a romantic kind and answered the "ad." Letters passed back and forth frequently and the upshot was that a certain day and place of meeting was agreed upon, and at the appointed time the girls crossed the river to meet their unknown Romeos. As the clock strock the Romeos appeared upon the scene, and then there was a scene that was hysterical in the extreme. The "two college boys' who were bent upon making the acquaintance of two young ladies of literary tastes were found to be two well known young men of Council Bluffs, who, of course, had known the names of their lady correspondents from the start and had been gracefully steering them toward the inevitable smish up.

It is reported upon the best of authority that the girls were noticed to turn seven distinct shades of color when they discovcred the trick that had been played upon distinct shades of color when they discovered the trick that had been played upon them. The worst of it all was that the unfeeling young men did not seem to care a straw for the effect the joke might have on the girls, but allowed the story to leak out little by lixle, with the result that at the present time the girls are possessed by a mortal terror lest their fond mammas will hear of it.

DR. TERRY'S ADDRESS.

Chautauqua College Entertained by a Talk on Mohammedanism. The Chautauqua college of the First Methodist church had the pleasure last evening of listening to an address by Rev. M. S. Terry, president of the Garrett Biblical institute of Evanston, Ill. Dr. Terry spoke on "The Life and Precepts of Mohammed," and his remarks were full of historical interest.

The speaker contended that while Mohammed might have been mistaken he was sincere in his belief. The cruelties which accompanied his conquests were the fault of the age rather than the individual and in no instance approximated the horrors which were perpetrated by the inquisition in the name of Christianity. His uniform success had no doubt seemed to him to stamp the measures used with divine approbation.

The Koran was a book about one-half the size of the Old Testament and consisted of 114 chapters, arranged in the order of their ength. It was dictated by him to his fol-lowers during the last twenty years of his life and was chiefly remarkable for its natural diction. First among its doctrines was the unity of God. It also taught the immortality of the soul, the death of the body and the future judgment. Mahomet's idea of hell was that it consisted of seven stories into which souls were distributed according to their faith. The first story was for the Moslems, the second was eccupied by the lews, the third by the Christians and the lowest was for hypocrites. Heaven, according to his philosophy, was a place where all the faithful dressed in radient apparel decked with rubies and diamonds. time was passed in feasting and with music and each man was attended by seventy-two nymphs of paradise who possessed all the harms of earthly beauty with none of the imperfections. Manomet acknowledged the psalms, the books of Moses and of the prophets. He be-lieved in Jesus and in most of the prophets of the Old Testament. The Koran prohibited the use of wine and extortion. Usury and gambling were among the vices which it condemned.

The Moslems had created the sciences of algebra and chemistry and developed that of astronomy. The most perfect piece of architecture in the world was a Moslem tomb in India. But Islamism had been weighed in the palances of 1,000 years, and had been found wanting. They had never made a people better than the Arabs them-selves. The presence of the Mohammedan Turks in Europe had been an unmitigated curse, and all the energy to be found in Turkey was due to the Jews and Christains among its population. The failure of Islamism was due to the fact that it had been associated with three great cyils, despotism polygamy and slavery. Such a religion was polygamy and slavery. Such a religion was incompatible with any other form of government, and the result was that the Moslems had but desolated every country which they had conquered.

BOLD ROBBERS

Two Men Hold Up a Parnam Street Druggist at an Early Hour. One of the most dather robberies which has occurred in this city for many months recurred at 10 o'clock last night. At that hour two young men stopped in front of W. J. Hughes' drug store on Twentying some ber he remarked that he was fourth and Farnam streets and looked about tired of life. His companions paid no attenthem to see it any one was approaching. Seeing that the coast was clear the men drew their revolvers, and while one of them stood on guard at the door of the store the other went inside and covering Mr. Hughes with a gun made him give up all the money in the cash drawer.

There was between $40 and $50 in the drawer and as soon as the robber got the money he backed out, keeping Mr. Hughes covered with the gan.

The men made their escape down Twenty.

fourth street and the druggist hurriedly called up the police by telephone.

Detectives were put at work on the case at once, but up to 3 o lock this morning had discovered no clew to the roobers. As the drug store is situated in a thickly settled part of the city and some one is generally passing that corner every few min-utes until midnight, the robbery was a very bold one and the thieves must have been desperate characters.

Those who awake more tired than when they went to bed, with an unpleasant taste in the mouth and the tongue

T. J. MOORE parched, coated and dry, know one of the many signs of the disease that fol-

Today it is known that the nerve centers gov ern all the processes throughout the body. Perfect digestion and assimilation require that the nerves work in harmony with the digestive apparatus. And it was on this recent highest medi cal information that Paine's celery compound, the medicine that makes people well, was first prepared. To all who are overworked, the following lettler from Mr. T. J. Moore tells a story that should be read and heeded. It is from one of the plain people:

"lam greatly pleased with the good results obtained from the use of Paine's celery compound. Previous to its use I doctored with two of the best doctors here, and my health was not improved in the least by the treatment I received. On the recommendation of a friend I procured a bottle of Paine's celery compound, and before I had used one bottle I noticed an improvement in my health and I decided to continue its use and give the medicine a fair trial. I have about finished the feurth bottle, and I have almost entirely regained my oldtime health and vigor. My ailment was a disordered stomach, and my whole spstem was out of order. My appetite was poor and very irregular, and as an old friend whom I met on the street expressed it, after enquiring about my health when I was under the doctor's core: 'O, you are a goner!' But my lmproved condition has convinced him of his inefficiency as a a medical examiner and prophet." Mr. Moore is a citizen of Toledo, and lives at 2109 Fitch street, in that city He is president of the trades' council and trustee of the painters' union. "He stands high with all union men," says the Toledo Blade. A careful man or woman either keeps Paine's celery compound on hand or knows just where he can easily procure it. It is the remedy that makes people
